Comments: I firmly oppose opening up roadless areas for logging. It's a terrible waste of our natural resources, it's awful and I hate it. As a United States citizen I think the forestry service should protect our forrest and that means keeping them roadless and not opening them up to logging. I and many others firmly oppose this as the devastating waste it would be. We should not even be considering exemptions. Opening up the forests for logging is a terrible idea.
