Comments: Fees

This last July I took my son and his two teenage boys on a two night backpack in to the Mt. Jefferson Wilderness. According to your proposed fee schedule for next year this will cost $52.00 not including the parking fee. This amount is not problem for me but it will out price many families. This is too high for many with younger kids and they are the young that should be exposed to the great outdoors! My love for the outdoors started while I was young partly because it was priced right for my family! Free! The national forests belong to all and not just the ones that can afford it. The fees should reflect this.

Thank you,
