Comments: Comments on proposed fee system

Hello.

In principal I'm in support of limiting the entry to these overused trails. After reading the very general proposal, I have the following comments:

- * The fee is too high since it's a per person fee - why is it different than what I've been paying to hike the Obsidian Trail? A group of 12 can hike with a processing fee of $6.
 - * There should be a group fee.
 - * How about being able to buy a season hiking fee?
 - * Where are the fees going? Nowhere do we learn how the fees will be spent. Staffing to enforce the entry system? Trail maintenance? Reserve fund?
 - * Also, nowhere do we learn how flexible the reservation system will be. Can I book (and change dates) for the whole hiking season? I realize that you're asking for comments about the fee structure, but it isn't an isolated aspect of this proposal.
 - * You don't mention fines for those who do not have a permit. I think it's part of the fee system discussion.
- Thank you for asking for comments.

All the best, Leslie
