Comments: New Wilderness access policy

Greetings,

I agree with the need for restrictions but do wish it had been approached differently at the beginning. I think education about impact might have alleviated some of the problems.

My main concern at this time is the idea of charging a $5/night/person camping fee for ALL TRAILHEADS. This is new information to me despite believing that I've been following this issue which is personally important to me. I would like this to be eliminated and replaced with an educational program, or at least restricted to the trails involved in the new controlled access program.
