Comments: 2020 Oregon Trail Fees - Feedback

Hello,

I am in favor of the new permit structure for the trailheads. I have one nugget of feedback from using the recreation.gov site to obtain permits in 2019 for the Obsidian trails that may need to be addressed.

After booking a permit I cannot find a way to cancel my permit and open up to other hikers, if I cannot attend the hike for whatever reason. The website can edit the # of hikers, but I cannot edit it to ZERO or cancel the permit. I do not care about being refunded the $$$. I simply want to be able to allow other hiker to use the trail if I will not attend on the day I pulled a permit.

I feel that this function needs to be added to recreation.gov if this is the intended method for pulling permits. It makes no sense for the permits to be all gone with no ability for the holders to cancel and pass them along to someone else if they cannot attend.

Thanks,

Nat Hawkins
