Comments: Trail fees

I strongly disagree with charging for permits to hike trails. I agree the areas are being overrun with people, but the desired results can be attained without charging the already overburdened taxpayer with more fees. Give the limited number of passes away for free and make the citation for not having a permit huge to discourage cheating. We already buy state park, forest pass and e national parks pass just to park at these areas already. The solution here isn't to charge more fees. People will just skip buying the passes and hope they don't get caught.
