Comments: Replicate the permit fee system of Cedar Mesa, Utah in Central Oregon

The Cedar Mesa plateau in Utah charges a daily permit fee of $2 per person to hike their trail system. Guess what. You can purchase the permit at the ranger station, no additional processing fee. You can purchase a daily permit or one for a week.

Why not setup the trailhead permit system in Central Oregon the same way. Let the ranger station on the way to South Sister sell daily permits. Or let people pay at the trailhead.
