Comments: Permit Fees

I am all for permits to enter these places because they are precious and need to be protected. Way too many idiots take advantage and don't take care of the wilderness. They'd rather wreak havoc and laugh about it. However, there are a great many of us who LOVE and respect these precious places, but can not afford a huge fee to be able to go and explore them. I feel that should be taken into consideration when putting a number to the fees for the permits. A small fee from thousands of limited users adds up quickly. And if the fees are distributed properly, there shouldn't be any problem keeping these areas protected. It's a very fine line, and balance will be needed on both sides to keep our precious places safe and clean for everyone to use.
