

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/20/2019 4:04:33 PM

First name: Richard

Last name: Sorensen

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Central Cascades Wilderness Project

Richard Sorensen

12215 Ne 32nd St

98682, WA 98682

November 20, 2019

Dear Willamette National Forest,

I thank you sincerely for taking the time to read this message. I also appreciate your efforts to help protect our wilderness lands. I am hoping the points below will help raise consideration about access, and opportunities for additional community involvement to help avoid heavy handed access restrictions.

The new quota-based fee structure for limited-entry day-use permits and overnight users, would restrict climbing access and create more barriers for low-income communities.

A portion of permits should be held for walk-up, first come first serve availability to allow climbers to attempt summits during good weather windows, which decreases potential weather-related accidents and the chances of getting lost, both of which result in increased search and rescue missions within Wilderness areas.

The Forest Service should implement other, less restrictive management tools prior to implementing limited-entry day-use permits. Examples include educational programs focused on leave no trace practices, administrative signage, revegetation and restoration projects to address areas of concern, and installation of toilet facilities and/or wag bag stations to address human waste issues.

The Forest Service should partner with County and State officials to address parking issues at trailheads. Managing and enforcing parking would self-limit the number of people on trail systems.

The Forest Service should consider an annual pass or volunteer pass to remove undue limitations and financial burden for individuals who frequent the permitted areas and support stewardship.

Sincerely,

Richard Sorensen