

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/8/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: Michele

Last name: Ritala

Organization:

Title:

Comments: As an American citizen and tax payer, I object to lifting the roadless rule and it's prohibition on logging. Global change mandates that we preserve old growth and buffering forests as trees are the lungs of the planet. Logging accounts for less than 1% of Alaska's economy. Logging these areas will benefit very few people while contributing to the degradation of the land, the wildlife and the indigenous people who depend on it.

[Position]