

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/8/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: david

Last name: gladstone

Organization:

Title:

Comments: My wife and I strongly oppose any changes to the Roadless Rule respecting the Tongass National Forest. the Roadless Rule is not stifling growth in Southeast Alaska, but rather, is working for this area.

Exemptions when needed have been consistently granted for, for example, community access and hydroelectric development. Tourism jobs, which need undisturbed forests to be maintained, outnumber timber industry jobs 20 to 1. The tribes and other local residents need to be listened to. Don't mess with this important national treasure!

[Position]

[Position]