Comments: Wayne National Forest, New Forest Plan

To whom it may concern,

I would like to suggest that the width limit on the OHV trails in wayne national forest be expanded to allow most if not all of the current selection of side by side UTVs available. This would open the usage of the trails to many more people, increasing revenue, and giving more people opportunities to enjoy the forest. I would suggest somewhere between 65 and 70 inches, while prohibiting highway legal vehicles. Similar to the regulations that have been used in other places across the country.

My wife and I have been riding atvs there for years, but she was involved in an accident, which has left her with permanent disability and unable to ride a normal atv. The ability to use a wider side by side, such as some of the utility based options available, would really help give her more suitable options to enjoy the forest with the minimal amount of pain and discomfort possible. I'm quite certain that we are not the only family in this situation.
