Comments: Keep the Roadless Rule in Place for the Tongass National Forest

Dear Interdisciplinary Team Leader, Alaska Roadless Rule Ken Tu,

Please uphold the Roadless Rule for the Tongass National Forest to help protect it from additional logging and development. The vast majority of wild lands in the United States have been exploited, or at least touched in some destructive way, by humans. We need to protect what is left as much as possible in its original natural state. This land belongs to the people of the United States, not by a handful of commercial interests that wish to exploit it for their own gain.

Sincerely,

Ehren Brav
