Comments: Public Comment on Draft Environmental Impact Statement, Alternatives to a Proposed Alaska Roadless Rule

As a concerned citizen, I urge the adoption of Alternative 1, which "takes no action and would leave all of Alaska under the 2001 Roadless Rule, including the Tongass National Forest."

Any other proposed alternative violates the public trust, and would lead to permanent, irreversible damage to our irreplaceable wilderness heritage.

There is neither legitimate need nor justification for opening these public lands for private profit.
