

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/10/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: Liz

Last name: Cornejo

Organization: Constantine Metal Resources Ltd.

Title: Vice President, Community & External Affairs

Comments: Dear Forest Service,

We support your rigorous analysis and the Preferred Alternative, Alternative 6 - a full exemption. The 2001 Rule should never have applied to Alaska. Renewable energy projects and mining projects are being unnecessarily obstructed by the inflexible prohibition on roads. The Roadless Rule is also counter to many of the regional goals for rural development and the USDA's own policies. A total exemption is necessary to re-balance economic development and environmental protection in the region.

Thank you,

Liz Cornejo

[Position]

[Position]