Comments: comments on the proposed special recreation permit fee

Isn't the Forest Service required to make and publish a financial analysis justifying the dollar amount of the proposed fee as a part of this rule making process? Preferably prior to asking for public comment.

If a portion of the fees are for outreach, has the FS factored in that the harvested email addresses provided during the fee purchasing activity could be used to spam outreach?

What is the justification for the processing fee difference between day-use and overnight permits?

If one purchases a day-use pass over the phone for the current or next day, how can it come with "an attachment that can be left on the dashboard of the vehicle to show that no additional payment of fees is required"? Such as the $5 trailhead fee.

When I'm trailer camping the forest I go to bed early so I can be at a trailhead around 7:30 AM.

What's the earliest time in the AM that I will be able to purchase a "day-of" pass? What's the earliest time in the PM that I will be able to purchase a "next day" pass?

If one purchases a day-use pass for the current or next day while trailer camping (in the woods) via the web browser on a phone, or by calling the 800 number, how does one prove that it was purchased? Sure hope you don't say "take the phone" because it would be sort of funny to be charged extra for solitude, yet be required to carry a phone.

Is the FS going to charge the Boy Scouts lodged at the Pine Ridge Boy Scout Camp overnight permits for locations in the fee area? If not, why?

Similarly, how will the FS manage day-use and overnight permits for such ever-present large groups that can continuously and readily consume the available reservations for an area?
