Comments: Re: fee and restrictions on Wilderness Areas

U.S. Forest Service,

Please know that I do not have reservations about fees for permits but I am very concerned about losing spontaneous access to trails, especially day trips. How can someone know in advance that they will be able to be & amp;quot;one of the 30& amp;quot; allowed on the trail that day? People often plan day trips based on the weather.

I am very upset at the potential loss of spontaneous access for day-use trails. Being out in nature is one of the most re-centering activities available. For a stressed society, with suicide rates soaring, we should not cut off access to nature like this.

Thank you for your consideration,

Ruth Wood
