Comments: Please do not spend tax payer money to further permit or subsidize the building of roads through Tongass National Forest or other wild areas of Alaska. The Roadless Rule was made for a reason and Alaska exemplifies that reason as well and any other, and should not be treated as an exemption. I strongly prefer to let stand the forest environment as it is than to spend tax dollars degrading it, whilst potentially damaging other standing industries, such as hunting, fishing, and tourism related industry.
