Comments: Do not exempt the Tongass from the 2001 roadless rule!

I am opposed to reversing the limits on tree cutting in the Tongass National Forest. Huge old-growth stands provide habitat for wildlife and 40% of West Coast wild salmon span in the Tongass. Road building that would be required to remove more timber will damage habitat. There are more compelling reasons for maintaining the tree cutting limits in the Tongass than for eliminating them. We must protect planet earth! Lael Camacho
