Comments: I support the Roadless Rule. Repealing this rule is short-sighted, greedy and a poor decision. At this time of global climate crisis, we need to focus on long-term solutions for the health of our environment. Yes, I believe in the science and facts of climate change. Repealing the Roadless Rule to allow the development of roads and the logging of these precious forests is in the disinterest of our public health. As a veterinarian who has previously worked with wildlife, I have seen firsthand the disastrous effects on vulnerable wildlife populations due to logging. Do NOT repeal the Roadless Rule.
