

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/17/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: Scott

Last name: Jelich

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It is of the utmost importance that the Tongass National Forest stays included in the 2001 roadless rule. Allowing roads to be built through the Tongass national Forest would be a grave mistake. The state of Alaska has plenty of access to natural resources development and the Tongass should be considered a national treasure and maintained as such, left untouched and undeveloped.

[Position]