Comments: The Tongass National Forest should remain under the "roadless" rule." I oppose the proposed rule.

The Tongass should remain roadless to preserve the timber, the wildlife (endangered species and others,) and to preserve the unique lifestyle of Southeast Alaska. The Roadless Rule is the best way to ensure this. Removing the Roadless Rule will make incremental development highly likely, and will increase the burden on those who oppose development to effectively oppose future development of the Tongass.

Please reject the proposed rule.

Thank you.
