

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/17/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: John

Last name: Bastian

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Please continue with option 1, there is no justification to opening up old growth forests to timberland. It is literally an irreplaceable jewel of Alaska, the entire country, and the world. There are a multitude of sustainable options for timber that don't include eliminating up to 156,000 old growth acres of trees.

[Position]

[Position]