Comments: The removal of this rule/exception will put our ancient growth forests at risk. Some of the rarest biomes left on our planet and one of the greatest resources we have. Ancient forest teach us and remind us what our ancestors experienced when they first travelled to America. It shows our history and shows what we can learn from it. Destroying or allowing this to pass would be in essence destroying America's past. Especially in a time when old growth forests are needed more than ever in this changing climate. Allowing this to happen would be catastrophic to the citizens of the United States and the world. Please do not allow our forests to be logged anymore than they already have. We cannot replace old growth forests, we never will be able to experience them again. These forests are key to our ecosystems and our way of life, allowing them to be logged will be a regret which will follow everyone, especially those implementing it. It will follow you like a plague for the rest of your life. Enjoy having to explain to your children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren on why their ancestors did not care enough about the environment around them to let their children experience it. Why they tried to cover up the past and process it into something different. Be on the right side of history, the moral side of history, and protect these vital forests.
