Comments: Hello,

I have lived in many places. The protections in place make Southeast Alaska by far my most cherished home. The natural wonder of the Tongass National Forest enhances my quality of life and gives me deep pride in my country. The visitors who flock to Alaska every year come because the unperturbed natural beauty is so rare. The commercial fishing industry - which employs more people than any other industry in Alaska each year - highly depends on the high-quality product ensured by protected watersheds.

I strongly urge you to pursue the No Action alternative.

Thank you.
