Comments: We owe it to our planet, to our neighbors, to our future, to give it all the respect it deserves. Resource extraction has killed this planet exponentially for decades now, and the only way to fix these issues is to leave our forests, our environment, alone. To respect its growth in its own right. Water, ecosystems, people - they are sacred. We cannot treat them like commodities, which removing the Roadless Rule would do. Be on the right side of history - keep the Roadless Rule in tact.
