

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/17/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: David

Last name: Alexander

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Let the areas remain roadless. We can increase our appreciation of nature and do greater in-depth studies of these bioregions to help save this beautiful planet Earth and its diversity. As far as logging goes, that should only be in areas already properly sustainably utilized. United States should focus on growing hemp in every area where applicable instead of cutting down old growth.

[Position]

[Position]