Comments: Hello! I am 9 years old! I am studying national parks with my class, I do not agree with this idea in my opinion, this is because, as you might know, global warming and climate change is a big thing now, and trees act like a sponge to the carbon dioxide which prevents global warming and many things. Yes I understand people need jobs, and it might prevent forest fires, but, forest fires can be good sometimes- not always. Just think about what your doing might cause, all the animals and including animals that are in danger will have no homes. Please dont do this!!!!!! - A desperate 4th grader
