Comments: I am a fairly recent resident of the Tongass National Forest. The things that have made the Tongass home for me are the parts of the Tongass that are untouched, the wild parts, the solitude, and beauty. I understand the need/want to boost the economy but I feel that two paragraphs about the impacts of lifting such a monumental rule is hardly enough information to make a just and fair decision. I am old enough to have watched the "wild" places that I once enjoyed as a child disappear. I have watched them become taken over by industry or housing. It is our job to preserve what we have left so that future generations can enjoy what we have enjoyed. Please choose Alternative 1, no action alternative, to keep the roadless rule in place.
