Comments: Whoa. Don't rush your Forest Plan Amendment - Elk Habitat Objectives #57302

it's something that will certainly belong in your upcoming Forest Plan Revision process, which is expected to commence on completion of, for instance, the Helena-Lewis and Clark National Forest Plan Revision, which may be released in just a matter of weeks, possibly even days.

The elk habitat issues raised in your scoping statement do not constitute crisis or emergency.

A rush job is anything but necessity. Slow down, ease up, take on this topic in due time as part of the required Forest Plan Revision process, which is coming soon enough, and which will be in accord with the planning rules set out for it.
