

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/16/2019 9:00:00 AM

First name: Eddie

Last name: Farley

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Save Ancient Forests in Alaska

To Whom it May Concern,

As an Alaskan resident and a lover of preserving the lands and outdoors, I write to you today about Choosing Alternative One to follow the 2001 Roadless Rule and prohibit road building in the vital Tongass National Forest.

It is as you refer to as "The Crown Jewel" and it's name is well deserving. It's is an important ecosystem for this world, providing carbon storage and a massive salmon fishery. The ramifications about allowing logging, building of roads and various other industries would damage it in ways that will resonate for generations. The Forest is a bastion of what is right about the Forest Service.

Thank you for your consideration.

Very Respectfully,

Edward Farley

[Position]