Comments: Tongass National Forest

To whom it may concern:

Please don't exempt the Tongass National Forest from protection against further development. The protected area is a significant contributor to Alaska's GDP and tourist economy. Moreover, the Tongass is one of the last remaining temperate rain forests in the US which provides sanctuary to a plethora of wildlife.

Exempting the Tongass from protection would jeopardize wildlife that thrives within its boundaries and have a detrimental impact on the Alaskan economy.

Sincerely,

Brett Jones
