To whom it may concern:

I am writing to voice my support for Alternative One on the matter of Roadless Rule in Tongass National Forest.

This area and the biodiversity it contains are crucial carbon sinks and habitats for wildlife in the area. Increasing road development and logging practices threaten the ecosystems that this region has supported for millennia, and the release of trapped carbon contributes to the mounting threat of anthropogenic climate change.

Please consider the non-economical toll that this legal change will have on the local community, and the nation at large.

Thank you,

Max Napolitano
