Comments: I live in North Georgia, about an hour outside the forest. Many of the places I enjoy hiking fall in this area. Where as I understand that some of this is required and necessary, I feel that proper notice can be made to give advance warning to those who use the area. Also the Forest Service's priority should also be to it's land neighbors. Think about borders and what impact will be had.

I would like to be able to continue to visit these places safely.
