Comments: This area is a tourist attraction. Many of the small towns surrounding these areas thrive on a tourist economy. More specific information about the location of the areas affected should be available to business owners/general public. In addition to the potential damages to the ecosystem, it could very well destroy the economy of the surrounding towns. With the beauty of the mountain scenery gone, so are the cabins and tourists to fill them, construction jobs to remodel them, and cleaning crews to maintain them.
