Comments: This proposal as it stands is not ready for prime time! As it stands, there is insufficient detail about treatments/"restoration" actions for the public to be able to assess the project, or for potential project leaders to effectively plan and be accountable for related projects. Additionally, as projects move forward, individuals and groups with standing should have the opportunity to assess and give input to specific projects in a collaborative process. An initiative of this scale should include much more structure for accountability to the communities that will be affected.
