Comments: Wilderness Fee Input

To whom it may concern,

I am saddened as a lover of nature that money has once again eased its way into our ability to enjoy the wilderness without corrupt interference.

As a former poster so adequately stated: "Please consider not double-billing the public and stop pissing off those who have voted to support you in the past,"

He's is 100% on target.

We all know that trail maintenance will not improve and it will be the volunteers that keep things up and running. This isn't about cleanliness or maintenance. It's about increasing cash flow. Charging people to enjoy their therapy walk and mental recharge is ludicrous. It's OUR land.

Leave it free for us to escape to. For some of us it's our only place to get away!

Make the permits "free" if you must limit use. Please.

Kind regards,

Deanna Rounds
