Comments: can we all agree that there are plenty of abandoned areas and destroying yet more ecosystems is stupid, reckless and arrogant. It is rather ridiculous we are pretending to give you all some new information which is not true. Everything has been said. Poison is bad. Unclean air water and food aren't good. You do this for a living but want public input, why? Is my Google engine going to provide me with some sound info you are not privy to? The world is watching and altho it has always been about the mighty dollar and let's make no mistake you cause is no exception. So how do we go about saving the environment in a Trump Era?? Hmm, guess you all are going to have to care about the future which is funny in of itself
