Comments: Everyone sees the unique beauty of our national, native forest in Georgia and the charming wild places in the Foothills. The Foothills are home to wildlife and clean water. The time is now to preserve, protect and value these areas in the Foothills Landscape Project. In a time when Deforestation is ramping due to uncontrolled and unsustainable development and climate change raises majors concerns for our life on this planet, this is a very timely discussion. Saving high value and mature trees and the native soil ad forest is the best project and gift to the future generations.
