

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/7/2020 4:46:20 PM

First name: Alan

Last name: Gregory

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Wild Nature comes first on public lands. At least that is the conservation-side of things. I vote no to removing any portion of the Thunder Basin grassland from the category of a reintroduction site for Black-footed Ferrets. The ecologically correct course of action is to immediately remove all livestock from this and all other public lands.