Comments: The land you are referring to is public land, meant for the people of the great state of Georgia, in which I was born and raised and continue to travel to to visit with family and friends. This area of Georgia is my favorite. Do not do these things to national land. It's pristine and you will absolutely RUIN it with logging, burning, destroying old trails and building new ones. I've shared this link with my family and friends living in N. GA.
