Comments: Hello,

This is not acceptable. There are plenty of other places that are not national forest to redirect these plans to. We need to keep national forest as it sits and protect the sanctification of it. Several states have just witnessed some of the worst fire outbreaks the world has ever seen and now have little to no national forest left. Why would we willingly destroy the forest we still have. We don't need more roads and construction, we need more focus on what roads we already have and protecting the forest and land by promoting cleanliness and responsibility.
