Comments: Ongoing input and discussion and notice to the public needs to be made at all times. No way should the public be kept out of participation at any time. You cannot expect the public to approve of anything when specific information has not been provided over use of herbicides and fires. We are not caring for our lands and environment in sufficient measure to ensure that wildlife flourishes. Our intrusions to fix things have unintended consequences. We have profound interest in the foothills and mountains of north Georgia in keeping them as a natural resource legacy to the future.
