Comments: The chattooga river and watershed are extremely important to myself an many others. It provides multiple opportunities for recreation, education, and conservation for stakeholders from all over the region as well as the many individuals that travel some distance to spend time there. Development or resource extraction in these areas would have major negative impacts on these ecosystems as well as the tourism and recreation economies associated with them. Please take care to leave these special places intact for years to come so everyone will have the chance to enjoy them.
