Comments: It is about time that active management for the benefit of the wildlife be instated. It is time that management by attorneys and the biologically ignorant and emotionally controlled egotistical "environmentalists" come to an end. It is time to manage what we have as best we can. The idea of native virgin hardwoods consisting of primary chestnut and long leaf pine will never happen. in the same way we will never see bison, elk or the wooly mammoths freely roam the hills and piedmont regions of GA.
