Comments: To whom it may concern,

I and my family object to significant elements of this project. Our forests are not there for logging. We need those trees removing carbon dioxide and generating oxygen. This project seems motivated by the profits the timber would generate for the company or companies collecting it. We also object to the planned use of herbicidal chemicals in the environment. If the goal was truly to return the ecosystem to a more natural environment, you would use natural means.

Sincerely,

Shawntel Ensminger
