Comments: I would just like to add that public lands health have been ignored to long because of environmental Activists whom believe they are doing wonderful things but the truth of the matter is that the historical fire and rebirth process which naturally occurs has been taken from biologists as a tool. Cutting archives this end and should not be controlled by the courts it should be controlled by biologist with the entire health of the ecosystem in mind. The amount of money and time given to state and national forest and wilderness areas by hunters and tax payers is phenomenal. We should start a fund to fight the craziness of not allowing our biologists from managing the public lands entrusted to them. I for one am an advocate of cutting and burning to provide habitat. Water needs the same concerned and thoughtful process. Get ownership out of the courts and back into public hands.
