Comments: As a landowner who borders CNF I'm not sure how I feel about all this. For years the NF by me has really been like dead woods. Only serving as access for hunters to get to the private property near us. Nothing really there for game but the occasional oak tree. I've seen a drastic decline in game threw the years. Especially after Hurricane Opel. Deer seem to be on the rebound but turkey are very few. Never do you hear grouse or step on a cuvy of quail anymore. I guess it be nice if NF would do some things to help the game but it ain't ever been done before that I know of. Us hunters bout the only ones use the NF that I know of. Just seems odd after all these years of nothing being done they want to do something now.
