Comments: I am sure there will be plenty of very detailed and eloquent letters you will receive about this project. My concern is not the actions that might take place, but the lack of regard for the public input on these actions.

The fact that your decisions will be announced after public participation opportunities guaranteed by law have passed, should be sending up a large red flag. However it's not.

You are bending the rules for your own purpose, and that should never be tolerated.

There are plenty of 'wrongs' that are imposed on the American people. Please dont find our public lands into that.

Thank you.
