Comments: As long as they won't be destroying habitat (except control burns), I have no problem with upgrading certain specific things,i.e. roads, buildings, and making them safer to an extent, this is mother nature & she can be vicious & unrelentingly deadly if you're not careful. I do not, however,think we should be adding ANY unnecessary roads. This is a forest after all & not a city park. Maybe some more hiking & horseback riding trails, but by all means NO NEW ASPHALT or CONCRETE.
